

Checklist to assure safe chiropractic practice during the covid-19 pandemic

1

Practice consistent with the General Chiropractic Council's Code of practice, Health & Safety law and other legal requirements.

Formal risk assessment that considers the risks to patients, staff, clinic visitors and the practitioner.

2

3

Action plan/policy to minimise the risks identified and ensure a risk-assessed rationale for care.

Contingency plan, should policies be compromised and available service limited.

4

5

Informed consent process, to ensure patients are fully aware of the risks and the measures taken to minimise them at this time.

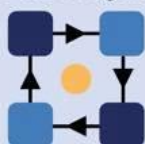

Ongoing staff training, in all relevant aspects of the risk management process.

6

7

Audit & review all aspects of the risk management process regularly.

Change implemented as required in response to changes in government advice and other authoritative requirements.